President's Message

The chamber team would like to express our heartfelt gratitude to our membership for making 2024 a truly remarkable year.

Together, we brought back the highly anticipated Business Expo, showcasing the incredible spirit of collaboration within our community.

We also celebrated 32 businesses, recognizing their collective 1,655 years of service to our community. During this celebration, we honored outstanding leaders and innovators by presenting six awards, including the introduction of a new category, the Non-Profit Award.

Looking ahead to 2025, we are excited to place a spotlight on the Chamber's Foundation. With our mission:

"To engage community and business partners to fund and promote initiatives and opportunities that enhance our community. Funds raised will support scholarships for Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs at Chesapeake College, bridging the gap between skilled individuals and the workforce needs of our community,"

We aim to make a significant impact.

Our goal is to grow the foundation to support one to two students in their pursuit of a Career and Technical Education. We are thrilled to champion those eager to explore and excel in skilled industries critical to our region's growth.

Lastly, we are immensely proud of the 2025 Business and Resource Directory and the overwhelming support it has received. It is a testament to the strength and unity of our members.

As we continue to connect our DOT to our community and businesses in 2025, we look forward to building stronger relationships, driving innovation, and supporting initiatives that make our community thrive.

Thank you for making all of this possible. We can't wait to see what we will accomplish together in 2025!

—LINDA FRIDAY
QAC Chamber President

Chair's Message

It is truly an honor to serve as Chair of the Queen Anne's County Chamber of Commerce for 2025. Stepping into this role, I am humbled to follow in the footsteps of my friend Heather Bacher, whose leadership and dedication this past year have been truly inspiring. Working alongside Heather, Linda, our Chamber members, and the rest of the Board has been a rewarding experience, and I look forward to continuing the great work we've accomplished together.

Reflecting on 2024, it was another banner year for the Chamber. From the Annual Golf Tournament to the Celebrating Business Awards Dinner, the return of the Business & Home Expo, and our regular monthly mixers, we've celebrated many successes and strengthened our community ties.

On a personal note, the Celebrating Business Awards Dinner was especially meaningful to me as the Chief Lending Officer for Queenstown Bank. I was proud to stand with my Queenstown Bank team as we were honored for 125 years of service to our local community. I'm grateful for the opportunity to support and collaborate with the local business community every day—both through the Chamber and my role at the bank.

This year's Chamber Directory is a valuable resource filled with tools to help business owners grow their networks and companies. I encourage you to take some time to explore it—you might discover new businesses to visit or reconnect with familiar ones.

Looking ahead to 2025, we are excited for another year of growth and celebration. From welcoming new businesses to recognizing milestones for others, the Chamber will be here to support and celebrate these achievements every step of the way. We look forward to seeing you at our events and working together to make this year one to remember.

Kent Narrows Waterfront

Located five miles east of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge
Exit 41 Kent Narrows West | Exit 42 Kent Narrows East

Surrounded by the Chester River and the Eastern Bay and joined by the Kent Narrows Waterway, the 995-acre Kent Narrows Waterfront region encompasses parts of Chester, MD, on Kent Island and the western side of Grasonville, MD. The area is defined by the two bridges that connect Kent Island to the mainland of the Delmarva Peninsula.

The body of water known as the Kent Island Narrows, or to locals, “the Narrows” serves as a main thoroughfare for commercial and pleasure boating traffic. The strait joins the Chester River to the Eastern Bay. Kent Narrows boasts eight marinas, a new boatel, and other high-quality boat storage and repair facilities. It also is popular with those who wish to purchase a boat or yacht, offering several sales and service facilities scattered throughout the business district. A new waterfront hotel—the Hyatt Place Kent Narrows and Marina—has recently opened, and the Kent Narrows Boatel has several new retail businesses that include Swan Cove Spa & Salon, Sugardoodles Sweet Shop, and Hope Boutique . . . with more to come. The new Dock House Restaurant is also a new addition to Kent Narrows.

The freshest seafood is here

Home to Harris Seafood and United Shellfish, the area remains a working waterfront and serves as the epicenter of the Chesapeake Bay’s thriving seafood processing and commercial fishing industries. The region supports hundreds of water-related businesses and is rich with maritime heritage. Local watermen keep their workboats and fishing boats here in the Waterman’s Boat Basin at Heritage Harbor, which is located just across from the seafood restaurants many of them supply.

A popular waterfront destination

The Kent Narrows Waterfront area is best known for award-winning seafood restaurants, world class marinas, waterfront hotels, and as a place to enjoy live music. Its dock-and-dine facilities are popular with the boating crowd; many restaurants and marinas offer free transient boat slips to those passing through. Several waterfront venues are available for small retreats, weddings and celebratory events. Fresh seafood dishes like Maryland Crab Cakes, Crab Soup, Oyster Stew and traditional Maryland Crab Feasts are enjoyed on the waterfront year ‘round. Well-known bands and musicians entertain during the boating season and on weekends throughout the rest of the year.

Center for sportfishing

The Kent Narrows is also a popular destination for Chesapeake Bay sport fishing. Some of the most experienced captains manage their fishing businesses from here. Head boats and charters depart daily from the landings and marinas during the boating season.

Stop and stay

A popular stop along the Chesapeake Country Scenic Byway, the area serves as a welcoming spot for visitors to the Eastern Shore. It’s home to the Chesapeake Heritage and Visitors Center and to scenic Ferry Point Park. Both places offer opportunities to become acquainted with life on Maryland’s Eastern Shore of the Chesapeake Bay, and to enjoy direct access to the waterfront.

Waterside cycling and hiking trails connect visitors to the hotels, waterfront eateries, and Eastern Shore-themed retail establishments. Central features along the trails include interpretative signs, the Maryland Watermen’s Monument, and the newly dedicated memorial, Veteran’s Point at Well’s Cove. Ask for the Kent Narrows Watermen’s

Way Heritage Trail map of the area at the visitor centers to learn about the region’s unique features and history. For video tours of the area given by locals, click on the go to Stories of Kent Narrows.org. From Kent Narrows you can access the popular Cross Island Trail that connects visitors to other parts of Kent Island and Grasonville. Water trails can be accessed from the Kent Island Boat Ramp.

Goods and services focus around water-based activities. Seafood processing, hospitality and maritime trades, resort hotels and marinas, and real estate and financial services generate the bulk of the employment in this area.

The Kent Narrows Waterfront is home to many marinas, boat sales and maintenance businesses. Two Yacht Clubs are also located here. Golf, fishing, antiquing, outlet shopping, and the activities at the Chesapeake Bay Environmental Center are nearby. The area is only 47 miles from Capitol Hill and just 20 minutes from Annapolis — easily accessible to major transportation hubs along the New York/Philadelphia/Baltimore/Washington Corridor.

THE KENT NARROWS FOUNDATION

The Kent Narrows Foundation provides guidance and oversight for the formulation of a strategy to balance new economic growth, community redevelopment, support for the County’s fishing and seafood industries, and public access to waterfront activities and amenities. The Foundation is also concerned that environmentally sensitive areas within the Kent Narrows be preserved and contributes to the character of this unique Eastern Shore community.

Today, the Foundation reviews development projects to ensure they are in concert with the Kent Narrows Community Plan that was adopted by the Queen Anne’s County Commissioners in 2023. It is active in promoting visitation to the area and in funding, managing and coordinating a variety of projects that serve to improve the district for property owners, residents and visitors.

An Executive Director coordinates the activities of the Foundation and oversees day-to-day operations. The Board generally meets the fourth Tuesday of each month. Meeting notices and agendas are posted on the Queen Anne’s County website.

The Foundation’s Office is located in the Chesapeake Heritage and Visitors Center at 425 Piney Narrows Road, Chester, MD 21619. For visitor or other information call 410-604-2624 or visit www.kentnarrowsmd.com. Events are posted on the Foundation’s Facebook page: Kent Narrows Waterfront

QAC Environmental & Cultural Opportunities

Chesapeake Bay Environmental Center

Located in Grasonville off Perry Corner Road on a 510-acre peninsula, the Chesapeake Bay Environmental Center (CBEC) invites you to experience first-hand the rich biodiversity of the Chesapeake Bay. Operated by the Wildfowl Trust of North America, Inc., since 1979, CBEC is home to over 200 species of birds, including large populations of migratory waterfowl. Over six miles of hiking trails that include observation towers, bird blinds and boardwalks allow visitors to observe wildlife in their native wetland and forest habitats found within the Bay. Kayaks are available for rent, and the Raptor Mews provide an outstanding opportunity to photograph birds of prey.

CBEC offers a wide range of “hands-on, feet-wet” environmental education opportunities for children and adults.

The Center’s Arts and Education building, with its main hall and kitchen facilities, is available to rent for weddings, parties, business meetings, and other group activities.

The Center is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is free, but donations are greatly appreciated.

Church Hill Theatre

The Church Hill Theatre, located on Walnut Street in historic Church Hill, is a non-profit art deco community theatre. The building was a town meeting hall from 1929 until 1935, when it then became a movie theatre, closing in the 1970s, but reopened in 1983 when The Friends of Church Hill Preservation, Inc. sought to acquire the building from the town and convert the building into a community theatre. With generous contributions of time and money from local citizens, the Queen Anne’s County Commissioners, the HUD, and state and local Arts Councils, Church Hill Theatre presented its premier season in 1984-85, and the rest is history!

Every year, Church Hill Theatre presents five full productions on its main stage, including classic hits like Oklahoma!, On Golden Pond, Fiddler on the Roof, Noises Off and Witness for the Prosecution along with more contemporary offerings including Doubt, Pippin, 33 Variations, and The Sisters Rosensweig. CHT’s summer theatre camp, Green Room Gang, teaches acting and performance techniques to students in grades 1-12. The theatre also has book-ins with other performance groups and local schools, and provides youth and adult workshops to fill out each season’s schedule.

Now in its fourth decade, the Church Hill Theatre proudly continues to present extraordinary live performances done almost exclusively by a contingent of dedicated volunteers, the backbone of this cultural treasure. CHT embraces arts education and provides training in the arts, ensemble participation, collaboration, teamwork, individual empowerment, and personal growth and knowledge through the arts experience. CHT strives to broaden its volunteer and talent pools and invites anyone interested in enjoying the experience of participation to call the theatre’s business office at 410-556-6003 for more information. In addition, we also encourage those, who may be interested, to become a member of our Board of Directors to help guide the future of CHT. Come and experience the magic of live theatre; work backstage, onstage, or as front of house staff, and as an audience member. There are also production sponsorship opportunities for you or your employer. Come be part of Church Hill Theatre and keep the arts alive on the Eastern Shore!

and assist you as you adjust to changes and anticipate the future. Our interdisciplinary team of physicians, nurses, certified nursing assistants, social workers, spiritual counselors, volunteers, and grief support staff provides comprehensive and support.

Home-based hospice care allows the patient to remain where they feel most comfortable—at home. Home can include a private residence, assisted living or long-term care facilities, or nursing homes.

If remaining at home is no longer possible, Compass has a residential hospice care option. The ten-bed Barnette Center in Centreville provide a comfortable, homelike, and medically-supportive alternative.

A team of experienced and caring professionals provide patients with 24/7 care to support the patients' physical, emotional and spiritual needs.

Hospice is appropriate for anyone facing a life-limiting illness, and our team is trained to meet the needs of all ages, from infants to seniors and every stage of life in between.

Supportive Care is available for those in the late stage of a serious, chronic, or terminal illness. Also known as palliative care, supportive care offers guidance toward living well and as fully as possible. The care team—consisting of a nurse practitioner and a social worker—works closely with existing care providers to help patients find relief from pain and other symptoms related to their diagnosis. This level of care can be provided even if a patient is still pursuing curative treatment or therapies.

Compass also provides a collection of Grief Services programs for the families of patients, as well as members of the community who are grieving the death of a loved one. These services have a common focus—rekindling hope and facilitating healing.

Our grief services team is made up of specially-trained and skilled professionals who guide people of all ages as they navigate the many emotions that accompany journeys of loss and grief. Our grief services are free of charge, and available to all residents of Caroline, Kent, and Queen Anne's counties.

Trauma-certified grief counselors, social workers, spiritual counselors, and trained volunteers provide personalized support to help patients and their loved ones navigate the emotions that come with a serious diagnosis and loss—helping families celebrate life, prepare to say farewell, and learn healthy ways to manage their grief.

Services include virtual and in-person grief support groups for adults, individual and family counseling, specialized grief support groups tailored to those who have lost a child or a partner, or those who have lost a loved one to suicide or overdose, school-based grief counseling and support groups (grades K-12), non-denominational spiritual counseling, Camp New Dawn (an overnight summer camp for children), Adult & Family Retreat, remembrance events and workshops, and a resource library of books, videos and CDs.

Because our care is about quality of life and living with dignity, patients and their families benefit when they have the help of trained professionals to assist with the physical, emotional and spiritual aspects of daily living. Our services are not just for the end-of-life, and many patients report a better quality of life the sooner they are admitted to a support program. Anyone can refer a loved one to Compass, it does not have to be a health care professional.

As a nonprofit organization, Compass relies on financial support from the community to provide services not covered by Medicare, Medicaid and private insurance. Compass is a fully licensed, independent, communitybased nonprofit organization certified by Medicare and the state of Maryland and accredited by the Joint Commission. It is affiliated with the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization and the Hospice and Palliative Care Network of Maryland.

For more information about Compass, the services offered, or becoming a volunteer, call 443-262-4100 or visit www.compassregionalhospice.org.

Chesapeake College

Chesapeake College empowers students from diverse communities to excel in further education, employment, and participation in an interconnected world. A two-year regional community college that has its main campus in Wye Mills, Chesapeake College serves the residents of Caroline, Dorchester, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot counties. Students can earn associate degrees, certificates and workforce training in their chosen fields—even college credits while still in high school.

The main campus features a contemporary Learning Resource Center and the 900-seat Rufus and Loraine Todd Performing Arts Center. Also located on the Wye Mills campus is the Eastern Shore Higher Education Center where four-year institutions offer baccalaureate, graduate and doctoral programs to residents of the Mid-Shore.

A distinction of the Wye Mills campus is its state-of-the-art, 100,000-square-foot Health Professions and Athletic Center. Health profession students utilize the facility's human patient simulators, ambulance simulator, digital radiology suite, surgical suite, hospital room and apartment for simulating emergency response scenarios to better prepare for careers in their fields.

Chesapeake provides a variety of non-credit course offerings designed to expand learning opportunities for the nontraditional student. The college also offers the opportunity for businesses to establish and realize training objectives through cooperatively planned, custom-designed programs.

The Chesapeake College Cambridge Center on Race Street offers an additional, convenient location to pursue a degree, train for a career, or upgrade job skills. The 25,000 square-foot facility, which opened in 1994, illustrates the commitment of Chesapeake College to serve the residents of the southern end of its five-county service region, including those in lower Caroline County.

The Cambridge Center features classrooms, training rooms, an advanced science lab, a health care simulation lab, a 100-seat meeting room/conference center, and a multi-service support center consisting of a library, a distance-learning classroom, and academic support center.

We encourage our students' growth and achievement while meeting their unique needs, thus providing each individual with academic and social confidence that promotes success and fosters the development of honorable, responsible citizens.

Kent School's riverside campus and outdoor learning environment are unparalleled. Our location on the Chester River makes possible our signature Chesapeake Bay Studies program, which fosters hands-on environmental science and stewardship of the natural world. Many local and national resources and partnerships strengthen Chesapeake Bay Studies teaching and learning. Some of those partnerships include The National Aquarium, The Chesapeake Bay Foundation, The Center for Environment and Society at Washington College, The Sultana Education Foundation, NOAA (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration) and more. This clear understanding of who we are—an inclusive school community designed for effective teaching and learning, driven by research and immersed in the natural environment—means we can remain committed to what is most important for students.

CHARACTER COUNTS!

Most people know what is meant by character. They may not use the same words to define it, but typically people describe character as “doing the right thing.” Character Counts! believes in sharing the importance of having good character. In 1999, the Queen Anne’s County Commissioner’s proclaimed our county a County of Character and Character Counts! was established. Our initiative exists to teach youth and adults about the importance of living a life of character.

For over 20 years, Character Counts! has worked throughout the county to make a difference for all citizens. To reach our youth, they recruit volunteer “coaches” to visit local classrooms and share monthly lessons on a Pillar of Character: Trustworthiness, Respect, Responsibility, Fairness, Caring, and Citizenship. They use social media to reach adult citizens and share examples of good character happening in our communities. Character Counts! aligns with local businesses and works in partnership with programs that positively influence the citizens of Queen Anne’s County.

Who & What is Character Counts!

The Character Counts! Advisory Council is comprised of dedicated community and agency people. They work towards the mission of partnering with the people of Queen Anne’s County to support and embrace character development in all aspects of our lives.

Advisory Council meetings are held every third Wednesday of the month at 9:00am at the Department of Community Services in Centreville.

All are welcome to attend!

Can Character be Instilled?

An educator once said, “Character building is an ‘inside job.’” Is our character as adults fixed or can we modify it? Character Counts! believes building good character is a dynamic process and that even as adults we can continue to mature and improve our character. Also, as adults it’s important that we teach and model positive character values for youth.

The Six Pillars should be considered a platform for teaching character. Character Counts believes these values provide a comprehensive minimum and offer common themes that can be taught to youth in the classroom or on the athletic field. In Queen Anne’s County, Character Counts! uses the Six Pillars as a framework for discussions about ethics and values in schools, the workplace, and community settings.

How Does Character Counts! Operate in Queen Anne’s County?

Character Counts! is a volunteer initiative. Its volunteers, who are trained to become Character Coaches, visit schools during the year and teach lessons about the Six Pillars. Character Counts! relies on the support of volunteers from the business community to support these activities.

Typically, each coach focuses on one Pillar a month. The coach works with the same class and once a week will do different activities to discuss that Pillar. For example, a coach may read a fable or story to elementary students and then discuss with them how the moral of the story relates to a Pillar, such as respect. A coach in a middle school may bring in a newspaper article about an incident such as a Wall Street scandal and use it as a way to discuss the choices we make and their consequences, when examining a Pillar such as trustworthiness.

It is important that adults reinforce the lessons about each Pillar taught to students. Values don’t exist in a vacuum. Ideally they are taught every day and students see their application in the workplace.

The goal of the Advisory Council is for Character Counts! and the Six Pillars to be adopted and practiced by all adults in the community. While the Advisory Council’s earliest initiatives have taken place in public schools, the group looks for opportunities to sponsor adult forums and other activities that examine character.

Be A Business of Character

Character Counts! encourages you to be a Business of Character. To do this businesses:

1. Serve by example; agree to be a person of character by following and adhering to the Six Pillars of Character.
2. Display at your business a poster or window decal provided by Character Counts!.
3. Fulfill at least one of the Character Counts! commitments listed in the business packet.

CHESAPEAKE CHARITIES

Since 2005, Chesapeake Charities has invested more than $9 million in the areas of education, health and human services, the arts, animal welfare, and the environment. By making lasting investments in the Chesapeake Bay region, we are creating a healthier community today and for generations to come. Most of these dollars are raised for and spent on our component funds—the charitable groups that operate under our umbrella.

You have already encountered many of these organizations in your daily life: Adopt-A-Bear, Animal Welfare League, Bully Free Community, Cancer Comfort Angels, Character Counts, Corsica River Conservancy, Historic Stevensville Arts & Entertainment District, Island Dog Park, McArdle School for Early Autism Intervention, Partnering for Youth After School Program, and Tomcat Solutions. These are just a few of the more than 75 community groups we serve.

Chesapeake Charities awards grants to advance charitable efforts, identifies today's and tomorrow's needs, stimulates resources to address those needs, and helps the community prepare for future challenges by creating lasting legacies. A volunteer board of leading citizens oversees the work of the organization and it is staffed by professionals who have expertise in the community's needs. Simply put, we make charity happen.
